

FAQ – The Travel Intern Program

Frequently Asked Questions

1. I'll love to apply but I already have a short trip or other commitments planned during the internship period.

We're generally flexible if you have minor commitments throughout the internship. However, it might be an issue if you have to be away for long periods as our schedule is quite packed. You need to motivate yourself to invest quality time of at least 225 hours during 45 days of internship. You can decide on the start and end date and let us know through e mail. travel@theroyalescape.in

2. Will there be another internship in the future? I can't make it for this one.

Highly likely ☺

The more traction this internship gets, the more opportunities there will be in the future. There are big plans for The Travel Intern and we're even looking at giving out travel grants for your own epic trips in the future.

3. Where will the internship be held?

We're big proponents of the digital nomad revolution and believe that we should have the freedom to work wherever we are. We'd be working on the go while travelling, out of cafes, and co-working spaces. There will be some days where we get to work from home too!

4. What is covered in my earned sponsored travel trip?

If you qualify for the same – air fares / train fares, accommodation, meals and activities are included. T&C applies. (Please go through the attached "Internship Profile & Structure" PDF).

5. How many hours will I have to work every day?

The internship is task orientated rather than time orientated. We don't believe in pretending to be busy if you're done with whatever needs to be done for the day. But a rough estimate would be 5-6hrs each day.

6. What will I be doing on the internship?

Initially get started by reading and understanding "Tour Operator's Manual" which is attached. You are required to make notes on various subjects and read travel related case studies and blogs (google it). You are also required to market and sell our fixed departure packages which are listed on our website www.theroyalescape.in. This would be an important benchmark to analyse your smart marketing and selling skills which is most needed in travel industry.

Your next task would be to produce travel content. Depending on your core set of skills you would either be writing blogs with SEO, making videos or both. You would also get to dabble deeper into social media and content marketing. We would be happy to share your original and dedicated blogs and videos on our website and share the same with your fellow interns.

For potential marketers, it's a great way to expose you to analytics and strategy.

For those who want to get into travel blogging, you'd be exposed to the various demands of the job.

There would be lots of knowledge sharing, not just from us, but from you as well as we are all interns of the world. And of course you will be travelling and experiencing what it's really like.

7. Can I use this for my college's official internship?

Yes you may! Just let us know what are the requirements and we'd submit the relevant documents to your college administrator.

8. How will The Travel Interns be selected to work with THE ROYAL ESCAPE?

Performance during your internship program (minimum 45 days) using your core skills (sales performance, writing, photography, videography), a positive attitude and good vibes would be the best parameters to judge your eligibility.

A handful will then be shortlisted for a Skype/F2F/Telephonic interview before the final decision is made.

9. It sounds too good to be true. Travel and get paid?

There are opportunities out there for anyone that knows where to look. The Travel Intern Programme is about growing a travel community of storytellers and consolidating resources so everyone wins. Do check out “Internship Profile & Structure” PDF to know more.

10. It sounds like a lot of work. Doesn't this take the fun out of travelling?

It's indeed lots of work. But look at it this way. This isn't less fun travel, it's more FUN work!
